“WARNER SISTERS IS HERE TO CARRY ON THE PURPOSE OF THE ORIGINAL WARNER BROTHERS’ MOTTO THAT WAS INITIATED BY MY GRANDFATHER, HARRY WARNER, PRESIDENT AND CO-FOUNDER OF THE WARNER BROS. STUDIO.

Producing, inspiring, and encouraging entertainment that ‘educates, entertains and enlightens’ is our creative duty, and honor.”

—Cass Warner, Founder and President

OUR MISSION

EDUCATE, ENTERTAIN, ENLIGHTEN!

“WE MUST ALWAYS TRY TO VISUALIZE THE BENEFITS
OF A NEW IDEA, BECAUSE THAT WHICH IS VISUALIZED IS THAT WHICH WE CAN DO.”

Harry Warner, Founder & President of Warner Bros. Studios

WARNER SISTERS BELIEVES THAT QUALITY
STORYTELLING IS AN EXTREMELY POWERFUL
COMMUNICATION TOOL THAT IS CAPABLE OF
MAKING A DIFFERENCE IN HOW PEOPLE
PERCEIVE AND UNDERSTAND THE WORLD.

Our intention is to use this medium, whether it's a feature film, documentary, TV series or other form of media, to create and increase awareness of issues, viewpoints and insights.

ABOUT WARNER SISTERS

In January 1994, founder Cass Warner birthed Warner Sisters from the constant inspiration she discovered while researching her book, “The Brothers Warner.” Realizing she was strongly drawn to the purpose of the original studio motto and types of projects which exemplified her family legacy, she decided to invite her talented friends and associates together to create along these lines.

While taking a screenwriting class that was being taught by writer Howard Koch of CASABLANCA fame, a close relationship began. Howard shared stories of his time at Warner Bros. during The Golden Years of Hollywood, and entrusted her with many of his unproduced screenplays. She also discovered other talented writers who she collaborated with on screenplays that are now part of Warner Sisters' slate.

Her pet project became telling her family's story. She produced, wrote, and directed THE BROTHERS WARNER documentary with the help of award winning editor, Kate Amend. She also has been developing other avenues of telling the brothers' incredible tale, which are soon to come to fruition.

OUR FUTURE

THE BROTHERS WARNER DOCUMENTARY

AN INTIMATE PORTRAIT OF THE FOUR
FILM PIONEERS WHO FOUNDED AND RAN
WARNER BROS. FOR OVER 50 YEARS.

Of the major studios, one was family. Harry, Albert, Sam, Jack – the Warner brothers – turned a storefront that used a sheet for a screen into a dream factory rooted in the credo of educate, entertain and enlighten. In this fascinating documentary, filmmaker Cass Warner (Harry's granddaughter) reveals the brothers' personal and business trials and tribulations, their passion, purpose and persistence in creating one of Hollywood's major studios.

“The Brothers Warner’ is a well-made, fascinating documentary. Cass has not only honored her grandfather’s legacy with this work, she’s also paid homage to one of the guiding principles of the four Warner brothers who founded the studio by producing a film that will educate, entertain and enlighten audiences.”

Barry Meyer, Chairman & CEO of Warner Bros. Entertainment

HOPPER: IN HIS OWN WORDS DOCUMENTARY

HOLLYWOOD ICON.

BRILLIANT OUTCAST.

RELUCTANT REBEL.

A restless maverick and sometimes self-destructive genius, he became revered and reviled for his perfectionism. Few people understood the man.

“We combined my very personal, candid conversation with archival footage and photos, and crafted a revealing portrait of the actor, director, writer and artist who defined a generation and created one of the film industry’s most enduring and revolutionary legacies.”

Cass Warner (producer, writer, director)

SPEAKING AT COLLEGES

"I found, out of all the guest speakers that came to class this term, Cass Warner the most interesting. Before I even saw her film, it was her entire personality that struck me. She was humble and inspiring..."

Philip Young – Student at The Art Center College of Design in Pasadena, CA

"Cass Warner showed us that behind the glitz and glamour, the soft lights and deep shadows, were real people. People who had an idea and brought that idea to fruition."

Sean Chung – Student at The Art Center College of Design in Pasadena, CA

STEPHEN BOGART AND CASS WARNER TOURED "AN INSIDE LOOK AT THE TITANS OF HOLLYWOOD"

In 2013, Stephen Bogart and Cass Warner came together and presented "An Inside Look At The Titans of Hollywood" – a multimedia program featuring speaking, videos and still pictures in addition to a Question and Answer period by both. Key components were Stephen's home movies and an inside look into the Bogart/Bacall family. Cass showed excerpts from her award-winning 2008 documentary, THE BROTHERS WARNER, plus still pictures of her grandfather and his three brothers taken during the course of their career. Except for the documentary footage, all of the material had never been released to the public--a treasure trove of material and memories.
